Hacawa 2004

Dedication

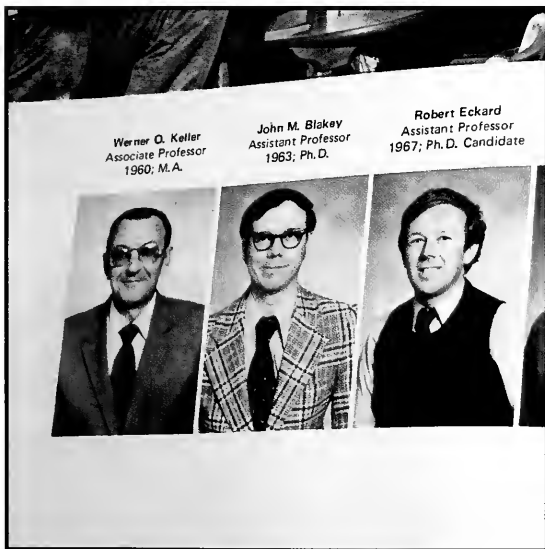

Who better to dedicate this year's HACAWA than Robert Eckard? Not only five years, but he was also a student at L-R in the sixties. Over the years, Dr. Eckard has been instrumental in running the International Business Program and many trips to third world homes, churches, and schools for people and towns that otherwise could not have such programs with schools in Ecuador and Peru offering students a chance to spend his time is spent preparing for the annual Language Festival. Dr. Eckard has been recognized by room by singing in Spanish while dancing around and encouraging students to win the International Business Award and the Rodeiger Distinguished Professor Award. Since Dr. Eckard has been instrumental to him by their parents who still remember him twenty five years later. Now we can spend on his true love-teaching. Congratulations on your many accomplishments.

President's Page

Greetings to students, faculty, staff, and alumni. I hope you enjoy the 2003-04 edition of the HACAWA, which solidifies our memories of the academic year.

College yearbooks are usually used at two very different times. First of all, recent graduates love to thumb through them to find their own pictures and the pictures of their friends. It seems they usually bemoan the candid shots of themselves while they enjoy the pictures of others. They search for special events that are captured in snapshot form to be immortalized forever. For those who are viewing this edition of the HACAWA in 2004, you will not be disappointed. You will find highlights of our year, from athletic events to student life to academic programs. You will also see evidence of our celebrations and the excitement that is found on our campus.

The second use of the college yearbook is for alumni, when they want to remind themselves of years gone by. As time passes, it is fun to pull the HACAWA off the shelf to show our children the styles of the day, to let them see how we looked when we were young. As we move through our lives and track the lives of our friends, we enjoy periodically looking back to see how we appeared when we were in college. In 2014, 2029, and 2054, there will be special reunions where our current seniors go back through these pages and remember the many special events that started them on the path to fulfilling purposeful lives.

We hope that this HACAWA has caught much of the spirit of Lenoir-Rhyne in 2003-04. The L-R of today is a school on the move, where excitement is student life, academics, spiritual encounters, and service; and they dominate our everyday experiences. This is the year when we converted Mauney-Schaeffer from resident halls to academic buildings. It is the year when we once again were ranked # 1 in North Carolina among peer institutions by U.S. News and World Report. But most importantly, it was one more year when our community of scholars studied together, prayed together, and laughed together. It was one more great year for us to remember.

Best wishes to all,
Wayne B. Powell

As the school year progresses the junior class looks forward to many fun experiences and all the good times that will occur in their final year of college here at L-R. Soon they will be the head of the class and those to look to for wisdom and other advice. Hopefully they have gained the knowledge and happiness they sought when they first arrived at L-R.

The program resides in the School of Computing Sciences and Mathematics and currently offers a B.S. degree in Computer Science and a B.A. degree in Computer Information Systems.

The Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics (General Track) is designed for the student preparing for a career in a field which requires a mathematics component. This track offers a great deal of flexibility; the student and adviser can plan an appropriate sequence of courses to fit the student's interests and career goals, such as applied mathematics, statistics, etc. Laboratory science and computer science preparation help tie the mathematics to applications.

The major may also be used as a first step to graduate school for those interested in pursuing a career in studio art or those seeking to teach at the college level.

The General Studies concentration in Computer-Aided Graphic Design combines elements of computing technology and artistic design to prepare the student for a career in today's world. The program includes a wide selection of courses from both the Art Department and the Department of Computing Sciences.

The Interfraternity Senate is the main student governing body over all Social fraternities at Lenoir Rhyne College.

Panhellenic is derived from two Greek words, "Pan," meaning all, and "Hellenic," meaning Greek. Thus, Panhellenic has come to mean an organization of all Greek-letter fraternities for women. The women who belong to the Panhellenic Association of Lenoir-Rhyne College include all women who are members of any of the national sororities present on our campus. Just as each sorority has officers who govern their chapter, the Panhellenic Association is governed by a group of officers known as the Panhellenic Council. The Panhellenic Council is comprised to two delegates from each sorority. Some of the purposes of the Council are to direct Rush activities and to determine the rules which govern the sororities. The Council also plans and directs various activities in which all sororities participate. The Council strives to maintain good fraternity life and interfraternity relations.

Women's CC

The women's cross country team had some injuries which prohibited some team members from racing, but many of the ladies had strong individual showings. With many potential recruits, the bears are looking forward to better team results next year. It takes a lot of hard work and dedication to log so many miles. Running is not easy but these women seem to enjoy it.

This team qualified for the Division II National Championships making it their first appearance. With an overall ranking of 24th in the nation the team has set high goals for next year. Only two bears Ryan McCreary and Adam Stewart are lost to graduation. The core of the team returns for next season. Cheerleading

The fall cheerleading squad did an outstanding job this year. They pumped up the crowd at home football games on a regular basis. Their spirit is unmatched when compared to other SAC teams. These young men and women trained extremely hard and should be proud of their success. They are always smiling and showing their support. Dedication is not an issue with these young athletes; they work hard to entertain no matter what.

Women's Basketball

Led by Crystal Cleary this year's women's basketball team won the SAC Conference title for the first time. The lady bears ended in first only losing to their pesky rivals Wingate three times. On a positive note the ladies swept the season series against Newberry, Presbyterian, Tusculum, Carson-Newman, and Mars Hill. Cleary made an instant impact and averaged averaging a double double in points and repounds for the year. Each year the team has gotten better under Coach Karen Barefoot. The Bears have the possibility of being national champions if they keep their strong play up.

Men's Basketball

The Lenoir-Rhyne men's basketball team finished first in the conference and earned a trip to the Division II Regionals in Georgia for a second straight year. They had a lot of leadership from their seniors and played with heart throughout. They put forth an extremely good effort with a never say die attitude. L-R fans can only hope a three peat is in store so they can cheer their beloved Bears on again.

Softball

The Lenoir-Rhyne softball team had an excellent season. They finished first in the SAC conference with strong play throughout the year. The team was led by Brandi Mueller who set the all time hits record for L-R. Key victories for the Bears include 10-0 and 3-0 shoutouts over Catawba and Newberry respectively. In the SAC tournament Catawba got its revenge betting the Bears 5-0. The team was dominant throughout and they exceeded all expectations. Unfortunately many of the key ladies are lost to graduation. This team has great potential to still be strong next season.

Baseball

Roster

The baseball team never entirely got on track this year as it seemed they were always on a roller coaster. One day they would win a double header and the next few games they would lose. Overall the bears had a respectable season with a sixth place finish in the SAC. Two late wins over the top team in the SAC, the Catawba Indians, proved to be a high point for the team. In the SAC tournament though the Bears lost to third ranked Wingate 10-5. The team had a variety of youth and experience with the seniors helping to cox the freshmen and sophomores along.

Women's Golf

Roster

For the second consecutive year the women's golf team has won the SAC tournament. With only the minimum five members for a team score it is remarkable how successful these ladies are. They put in a lot of time and effort including fall golf events to prepare for the spring events especially the SAC tournament. With Kelly Andrzejewski and Carlie Gordon graduating the team will have to pick up some recruits to hold on to their current title.

Quiz Show

This year's quiz show encompassed a variety of questions that many students found challenging. There was a large group in attendance and most of the students had fun. The eventual winner was Sean Fagan, who received $200. It gave students a chance to compete in a friendly atmosphere.

A Midsummer Night's Dream

The House of Yes

This year the Lenoir-Rhyne playmakers presented the House of Yes in the fall and A Midsummer Night's Dream in the spring. The House of Yes was a more serious play directed by current L-R student Nathan Johnson. A Midsummer Night's Dream was a comical play using Beatles music and other jokes to make the original Midsummer Night's Dream become more entertaining. It involved a much larger cast and was directed by Joe Sturgeon. Both plays were huge successes with many people attending and enjoying good acting.

Homecoming Week

This year there were many events scheduled throughout Homecoming week. Students could dip their hands in wax, compete to see which class could get the longest chain by donating money, or get tattoos etched on their bodies in ink, but are not permanent. These activities led up to the big day of Homecoming with floats and the annual home football game.

Homecoming Parade

This year's entries for floats included many different organizations, fraternities, sororities, and other groups on campus. There were very large floats and some very small floats. Lots of hard work went into the building of each and every float but only one group could win. The winner for this year's best float was created by Alpha Psi Omega.

Candle Light Vigil

Spades Tournament

The candle light vigil was held on 9/11 to remember those who were lost in the World Trade Center. Many people showed their support by coming out and participating in the ceremonies. Everyone was given a candle and some songs to sing to remember our fallen Americans. The spades tournament was a huge success and could not be finished in one night. A cash prize was supposed to go to the winners but the four remaining players never got around to finishing their game.

Spring Fling

Spring fling is a highly celebrated event. Many students gathered on the soccer field to socialize, play frisbee or football, and maybe have a drink or two. Spring fling brings together many different groups of people who socialize and have a good time. The Tom Sartori Band sponsored by CAB played for people's enjoyments.

Casino Night

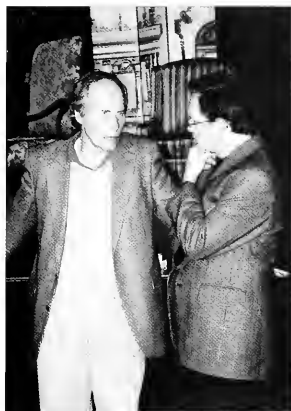

Casino night was one of the most anticipated nights of the year. Students were given fake money to try and win more. If someone had $5,000 he or she could turn it in for a ticket which gave the individual more chances to win a prize. There were many prizes from digital cameras, to DVDs, to a T.V. Slot machines were set up and many tables including roulette, black jack, and craps were available. Food was provided giving students an all around good time.

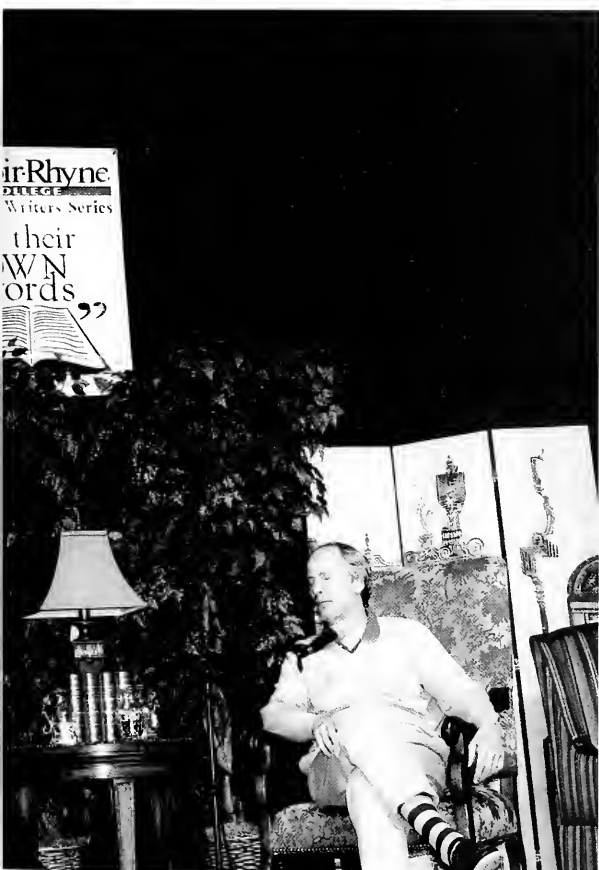

Band and Chorus

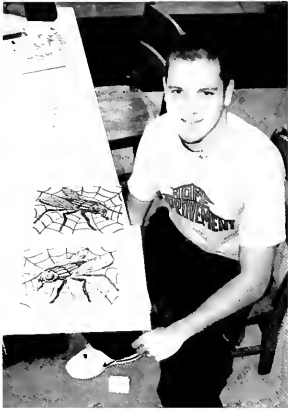

Visiting Writers

Band and chorus are an intricate part of the Lenoir-Rhyne community. Every year the chorus travel to Europe during the summer to sing. The band puts on many concerts and sponsors other musicians to come to L-R to play. The visiting writers series included many authors. Some write books while others write poems. Their writings range significantly. Some notable writers who visited were Kathy Riechs, Bill Collins, and VW Richardford.

Lenoir-Rhyne has many student artists who take pride in thier work. They paint and sketch whatever their minds see. If they can produce top material they may become published in galleries or museums and could sell their beloved art work. A lot of time and hard work goes into creating each piece perfectly.

Rowdy Fans

The fans at Lenoir-Rhyne College are some of the most supportive there are. They come out in flocks attending football and basketball games regularly. They generally know what is going on and actively participate with cheers for the Bears and boos for the opposition. After every Bear score in football a crowd member does push ups for the total number of points showing their dedication to the school.

Science Experiments

Working on Science projects gives Lenoir-Rhyne students many new ways of thinking and understanding of what goes on around them. Many students fall in love with the discovers they make and want to learn more. Science is a way to communicate with the usually undetected organisms in life. Using microscopes can help someone see things in a whole new perspective. Science philosophers try to bestow their vast knowledge on unsuspecting students but they are free to make up their own minds and see what is out there.

Parents Weekend

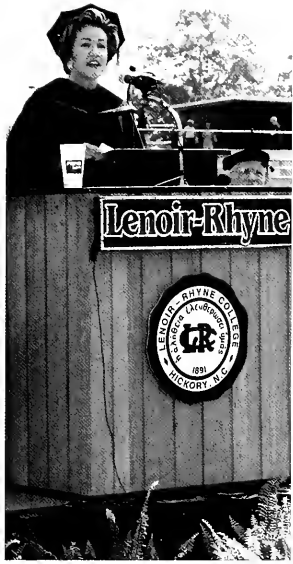

Whether students like to admit it or not they are usually happy when they see their parents. Parents can be overbearing but everyone knows they love you and are thinking about you. parents weekend is a chance for them to see how you are doing and to feel like they are part of the L-R experience. They eat cafeteria food and attend sporting events. Parents are always there for support and parents weekend is a time to give back to them for all their hard work.

2003 Graduation

It has taken some longer than other but eventually they all made it. Graduation a time for celebration yet a time to look at the not too distant future and see where one is going. What has come of his or her Lenoir-Rhyne education? Will your degree help you in the real world? Some already have jobs lined up while others will be venturing into the work force for the first time. What new surprises await, nobody knows. All we can do is hope that all the knowledge we recieved from L-R will be put to good use. So relax and enjoy because graduation doesn't happen every day.

Do Something Random

Future L-R Students

You have to make your time at Lenoir-Rhyne fun. A normal routine gets boring and random acts can help pep up your day. Also remember that someone is always watching you. As these children grow they will see L-R as you have left it. Do not think just about your own personal gain but be bold and help someone who needs it. One day you will need assistance in whatever it may be and children are our future. They are the ones we will take care of you when you need it. Remember you only live once so make the most of your time at Lenoir-Rhyne.

The Lenoir-Rhyne HACAWA wants to congratulate the following sports teams on their accomplishments. The men's cross country team on making it to their first ever national championship. The men's and women's basketball teams on finishing first in the SAC. This is the second straight championship for the men and the first for the women. The softball team on finishing first in the SAC for the first time ever. The women's golf team on finishing first in the SAC for a second consecutive year. Once again congratulations to these sports teams and all the hard work that made their teams successful.

Colophon 2004 Hacawa

The cover is four process color embossed foil with matte black background, trim size of 9x12 encompassing ten sig. The sports photos were taken by Photo Phil Robinson with Sportsphotos, the class pictures were taken by Carolin Photography, all other photos were taken by Shane Budd who also designed and edited the HACA WA. The pages were made using PageMaker 6.5 on a Dell OptiPlex GX 110. The main type faces used were Times New Roman and Palatino. Bill Hall served as publishing representative of Jostens Yearbooks. As an editors note I'd like to apologize to Circle K and the School of Natural Sciences as the two digital cameras designed for yearbook use were stolen from the publications office. Also to the few people who offered help in the creation of the yearbook David Lefevers, Melissa Freeman, Kurt Schmidt, Dr. Russell Benton, Bobbi Joe Ruel, Katie Norris, and David Helms thank you all.
